

Building a World Class Food Safety Program!

These networking events are open to all Food and Beverage sector companies, including those directly supplying manufactured product to the industry.

On behalf of Host, HFS – Healthcare Food Services, please join us for a special peer networking session focusing on Food Safety Best Practices!

This special EMC Food & Beverage Sector Networking Event will highlight best practices and provide an opportunity to learn and share information on experiences relating to building and maintaining a world class Food Safety program!

A robust Food Safety program is an essential business component for all processors today. Staying abreast of changes in legislation, adhering to proper food handling, sanitation and pest control, and nurturing a culture that understands, engages and continually seeks improvement on current practices is all part of the broader picture of developing an enduring World Class Food Safety Program.

With the opportunity to learn from peer experiences in mind, we are particularly pleased to be visiting with HFS – Healthcare Food Services who will be sharing insight on their Food Safety Journey to date. Participants are encouraged to consider how they may enhance their internal programs relating to this fundamental element of our businesses!

Hope you can join us for this very special Food and Beverage Sector Event!
