

FOOD, BEVERAGE & BIO SECTOR INITIATIVE

INDUSTRY
NETWORKING EVENT

Talent Review & Building Performance Best Practices!

These networking events are open to all Food and Beverage sector companies, including those directly supplying manufactured product to the industry.

On behalf of Host, Wholesome Kids Catering, and Special Guest, Maple Lodge Farms, please join us for a special peer networking session on Talent Review and Performance Coaching Best Practices!

This special EMC Food & Beverage Sector Networking Event will highlight best practices and provide an opportunity to learn and share information on Talent Review and Building Performance!

There are 246,000 Canadians employed in the Food, Beverage and Ag Sector and the need for people in this industry continues to grow.

As an organization considers future growth, reviewing talent provides an opportunity for business leaders to gather insight on employee performance specifically with a lens on potential needs to come. Recognizing that new positions are constantly developing (ie. cybersecurity needs) or current roles evolving in an ever-changing environment, a talent review allows Leaders a perfect forum to review performance and align goals for the company's future progression and development.

Maple Lodge Farms and Wholesome Kids Catering are looking forward to sharing their best practices relating to this very interesting topic on "Talent Review and Building Performance" and invite you to join in on the discussion!

Maple Lodge Farms, a family owned and operated business, celebrated their 60th anniversary in 2015 and are the largest chicken processor in Canada offering a variety of products.
